The problem with Excel is that you need to create a good Excel trading journal template that tracks multiple dimensions of your trading performance. Thereby, you will be able to identify what you are doing right and what aspects of your trading could be improved. Creating a good and actually useful template certainly isn’t an easy task! If you set it up in the wrong way, your template might be useless... Furthermore, it comes down to how you value your time. Reason #3 If you use this excel trading journal template and actually take the time to analyze your performance, you will become a better trader! Your trading performance will become better. Most other trading journal software that I found either cost $150+ or about $29 per month. This is a Limited Time Offer! Why do I need this? Reason #2 One thing that I looked at when coming up with this price tag is other similar products. But if you think your time is worth more than that, then get my Excel trading spreadsheet. If you choose to ignore this advice, you have the wrong mindset to begin with... My Excel trading spreadsheet allows you to substantially better your trading performance with as little as 1 minute per trade. You simply have to enter a few numbers into the spreadsheet. It is created by making use of the latest SEO technologies. If you submit the following code and send me proof of it, I will send you a free copy of my premium Excel Trading Journal Template: Referral Code: KKVTVYQERN You can send me proof by sending a screenshot of the referral field after submitting my code to Louis@TradeOptionsWithMe.com If you have any question, comments, feature requests or anything else, let me know in the comment section below!
