However, in the 2007 revision of the show, the new maximum prize money on offer is $5,000,000, however in the 2009 revision the top prize reverted to $1,000,000. 2007 format The series ran for its scheduled 6 episodes from October 22 to November 26, 2007. The most notable change to the format is the addition of a bonus 16th question, which is worth $5,000,000. After answering question 15 correctly, they have the option of going for the bonus question. If the contestant gives the correct answer, he or she will win $5,000,000 (the largest top prize in the history of Australian TV game shows). However, if an incorrect answer is given, then his or her winnings will plummet down to only $32,000; a devastating $968,000 loss. 2010 format On February 27, 2010, a prime time special called Whizz Kids: Who Wants to Be a Millionaire? was broadcast in which teams of students tried to win up to $1,000,000 for their school. It includes crosses to the students armed with keypads, and segments hosted by Scott Cam, Shane Crawford and Charli Delaney. Students from Engadine High School in Sydney, and Blackburn High and Frankston High in Melbourne appeared. On March 6, 2010, second episode aired.
