Apple was revealed by Giant Tech® last week. A Rather than being limited to the new device, iOS 15 runs All Apple iPhone 6s phones and more recent than 2015 are facetime capabilities with Androids, a new live text tool that can recognize calligraphy from photos and a redesigned safari users can install updateDirection App Settings on your device, before touching the general and then update the software. Here is the look of mailines on some of the most exciting updates that come with the new Apple 15 iOS operating system brings the largest update to FaceTime. Includes 3D audio, which is like surround sound but multiplylicate mode Listen to music or look for the web together via FaceTime. The update also adds functionality than pits facetime against zoom. Users can now send links to video conferences with a time number and login. Chat boxes are also organized as grids for better viewing. More specifically, iOS 15 is renewing facetime with new features that aim to better connect users. Improvements include 3D audio, portrait mode that blurs backgrounds to make the subject of a more prominent call and a view of the grid, showing people on facetime tile calls of the same size. Users can also watch and listen to the same films and music with friends through a new update called Shareplay. Shareplay allows users to enjoy the same movie or music using only your iPhone or iPad on FaceTime. The function is compatible with Apple TV and Apple Music, along with the contents of Disney +, Hulu, HBO Max, Twitch, Tiktok and more. " Keep facetime conversations going as you look at TV and movie programs, listen to music or share the screen with Shareplay, 'Apple says.' It's a completely new way to have experiences with family and friends, no matter the distance. " Even with iOS 15, FaceTime is supported on Windows and Android devices through a browser, providing the first time that the video call platform Apple's owners is available on other platforms. In other words, FaceTime users with an iPhone can send friends and family a link to connect to FaceTime even if they are using Windows or Android. This allows users to transform handwritten notes into e-mail, for example, as well as copying text and search online. Apple says: 'Live Text unlocks rich and useful information intelligently in images, so you can make a call, send an e-mail or look at top directions with a single touch on the text highlighted in a photo' Apple says that The function is enabled using 'deep neural networks' and 'Intelligence On-Device'. 'Live Text works in photos, screen, quick look, and safari and in live previews with room.' Focus Apple has also equipped iOS 15 with a new feature called Focus, which hides applications typically distract users. Focus allows users to decide how notifications appear on your device and automatically filter notifications based on what they are doing. Notifications will also seem a little different after downloading iOS 15 - they will have larger photos and icons. This is part of the new Focus function of Apple that allows users to decide how notifications appear on their iPhone or iPadThis includes timing when some notifications will be pop-up, such as snoozing them during work or allowing them when on a walk. Apple describes a single 'focus' as a category of which users can choose to receive notifications. If they have chosen the focus 'fitness', for example, they will receive updates from their Fitness theme apps. 'Focus helps you stay when you have to concentrate or move away, "Apple says.' Choose a focus that allows you only notifications you want â € "you can get the job done while you are in the area or enjoy a dinner without distractions. ' Maps The maps in iOS 15 guide you to your destination that you reach where you are going with the step-by-step directions that you can do actually increased Apple also seems to hope to win some iPhone users who started Google Maps. A new Apple Maps for iOS 15 includes what it calls 'awesome new details' on streets, neighborhoods, trees, buildings and more. There are new details such as filtering lanes, crossways and cycle paths, as well as street-level perspectives on the approach to complex interchanges. A new dedicated driving map, meanwhile, helps users see current accidents and traffic conditions at a glance. Finally, step-by-step directions can be displayed inreality . In other words, hold on an iPhone with open maps will indicate the road you want to head down when following the indications. Safaria has redesigned the safari experience, meanwhile, includes a new card bar at the bottom of the screen that allows users to switch between pages. The long horizontal bar has the name of the web page that the user is currently active is and remains off the road while flowing and explore. It is easily reachable at the bottom, so you can browse and skip between the cards with the inch only, 'Apple says. The Safari redesign also allows iPhone users to search for the web using only their voice. 'Voice Search in Safari is an incredibly convenient way to look for the web without hands,' Apple says. Just touch the microphone in the card bar and talk. iOS 15 messages also includes a redesign of messages that transforms messages into tunnel. Share with you in messages allows iPhone users to surf photos and links that others have sent means links, images and other shared content in the messaging app are present in a new section called 'shared with you'. 'Multiple photos in messages now appear as a collage or an elegant stack of images that can be scroll through,' Apple says. Apple has also provided operating systems for other devices, including iPados 15 which aims to help users to be more productive, renewing Split View and Slide Over functionalities. Watchos 8 provides more functionality to stay healthy, active and connected, along with new applications to help you breathe a little easier. Apple's airpods are also getting improvements with the new iOS 15, which will increase the sounds of the people who speak to you, improve find my support and an improved range of notifications. Apple has first given users the first glance to his new iOS 15 at the World Conference of Technological Giant Developers (WWDC) on 7 June. â € œWe we excite to make the ipad experience even better with iPados 15, â € said Craig Federighi, Senior Vice President of Apple of software engineering, said at the moment. Apple said earlier: 'We want to help protect children from predators using communication tools to recruit them and exploit them, and limit the dissemination of the child's sexual abuse material (CSAM)' â € ~ with more intuitive multitasking, a new one Design Home Screen with integrated widgets and the app library, system notes taking with Quick Note, Translate Designed for iPad, Shareplay, a redesigned safari experience, new tools to stay concentrated, and more, users can now be even more productive. â € " Apple has previously revealed in September that iOS 15 does not include the iPhone scanning capacity for children's abuse images as expected, due to a furious backlash from iPhone users. The happy floors involve the iPhone scanning for children's abuse images and the reporting of owners 'flagged' to the police. He had planned Rollout the iPhone, iPad and Mac function with software updates later this year in the United States. But Apple said September 3 that it would take longer to collect feedback and improve proposed functionalities, after the criticism of the privacy system and other reasons both inside and outside the society. "False positives" the system will start, safely on the device, based on a 'Hashes' database - a type of fingerprint - of known CSAM images provided by child safety organizations. These fingerprints do not seek image abuse of identical children because pedophiles should only cut it differently, turn it or change colors to avoid detection. Consequently the technology used to stop Children's abuse images will be less rigid, making the perfectly innocent file flag more likely. In the worst cases the police could be called and interrupted the life or work of the person falsely accused only, perhaps, to send a photo of his child. The program currently looks only photos and videos, but there are concerns that technology could be used for scanning usually encrypted messages disuse by governments there are great concerns that La scappatoia potrebbe essere adattata da un governo autoritario per far rispettare altri crimini e violare i diritti umani. Ad esempio, nei paesi in cui l'omosessualità è illegale, le foto private potrebbero essere usate contro un individuo in tribunale, gli esperti avvertono. Espansione nei test Nuovo question La Politica di Apple sarà alla ricerca di foto e video, ma ci sono preoccupazioni che la tecnologia potrebbe essere usata per consentire alle aziende di vedere messaggi solitamente crittografati come iMessage o WhatsApp. Ci sono preoccupazioni che qualcuno potrebbe inviare una fotografia perfettamente innocente a qualcuno - sapendo che li porterà nei guai, Se la persona, o il governo, ha una conoscenza dell'algoritmo o 'impronta digitale' che viene uszato, potrebbero usalo per adattare qualcuno per un Backdoor attraverso le leggi sulla privacy If the policy viene espulsa in tutto il mondo, i promoteri della privacy temono che i giganti della technology saranno presto ammessi l'accesso inutilizzato ai file tramite questa backdoor. backdoor.
